

Draft points for discussion

1. What are the challenges, opportunities and new trends in ensuring decent and sustainable work in forestry?
2. What are the recent developments and good and emerging practices on occupational safety and health (OSH) in forestry?

Topics that the Meeting may wish to discuss under this point include:

- existing International Labour Standards and other tools relevant to OSH in forestry;
 - the impact of transformative changes such as new technologies, demographic shifts and climate change among others;
 - skills development and training opportunities for improving OSH in forestry;
 - availability of reliable, comparable and sex-disaggregated data on OSH in forestry; and
 - measures to address OSH challenges in forestry.
3. What good practices of social dialogue can be identified to promote decent work and OSH in forestry; and how can effective tripartite social dialogue be used to address the future of work in forestry?
 4. What policies, strategies, programmes, tools and actions are needed to promote decent work and OSH in the forestry sector, taking into account, inter alia, the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development:
 - by Governments;
 - by workers' and employers' organizations; and
 - by the ILO?
